Agency expanding hope
By The Commercial Appeal
December 9, 2005

Hope House will dedicate its third home today. The ceremony at 15 S. Idlewild is at 10 a.m. The new home will allow the agency to expand social services for people whose children come to Hope House. That will include a GED and job training program for mothers, private areas for parent meetings and therapy rooms for counseling.

The 11-year old agency, founded by the Junior League of Memphis, provides day care, respite care and 24-hour emergency care for preschool-age children who either have HIV/AIDS or whose primary caregivers are infected with disease.
